

HEALTH CARE IN AMERICA IS TOO OFTEN UNEQUAL

Today, more than 50 percent of Americans and 75 percent of Californians without health care coverage are people of color, including many Asian-Americans. Uninsured men, women, and children are far more likely to get sick and forego care simply because they lack coverage. This is a national disgrace. We spend 2.5 trillion dollars on care in this country. We can and should achieve universal coverage.

It's overdue.

To learn more about disparities in today's health care in America, visit kp.org/healthdisparities.